

ON YOUR WEDDING DAY!

To our Guests: I'm gonna make this short because this is not my day, it is theirs! I borrowed my opening from the Dr Seuss book named The Cat In The Hat. I loved that story!

So, this poem is from...The Black Cat in the White Hat!

The day has come
when you've started a new life.
Two have become one,
you are now Husband and Wife

From the top of my hat
to the bottom of my heart,
I want only the best for y'all
as you make a new start.

Marriage isn't always easy
So, here's my Rule Number One.
Lock the kids in a closet
and go have some fun!

Cory, welcome to the family,
this is your last chance to run.
If you decide to stick around
I trust you'll be a good Son.

Daughter Dear, I don't when I don't even know how,
But someday I'll accept that you're a Big Girl now!

Luv Y'all! DAD
