

LONDON Meets DORA

By Shamiara Horton

One day there was a baby named London.

London loved to read and play with toys.

One day while reading a Dora and Boots book, London and her grandma put their heads in the book and then their whole bodies. They went on adventures with Dora and Boots.

London's grandma remembered she was cooking dinner. She and London ran out of the book on the last page. Dora told London to come back soon. For reading the book all by herself, she got a chocolate covered bottle and a sticker.

